Link with the territory

Salumificio Pavarotti SpA was founded over 45 years ago, in 1972, by Enea Pavarotti. The founder had a vision of the food market already innovative for the times, the idea of focusing on a product not considered by other entrepreneurs: the cooked ham. The same vision has remained firm in the soul of the company over the course of time and today the Salumificio proposes for foreign markets a new worldwide known product, enriched with Italian expertise and proper know-how: the würstel. However, beyond the clear innovative nature, the company has always been linked to the territory in which it was born and still works, Modena, so the name of this new line - Toghino - proposes a way of speaking of our dialect. A way of saying that something is done in the right way.
